

The thesis The reflection of events in Ústí nad Labem on July, 31 1945 is a historical comparative analysis of an explosion of the ammunition dump and following persecution of German inhabitants in Ústí nad Labem. It reviews the content of a national daily Rudé právo and a regional periodical Předvoj and confronts it with historical literature. Main aims of the paper is to explore the media picture of Germans in Czechoslovakia in the context of the Potsdam Conference that approved an “organized and humane” expulsion of the German minority from Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary on August, 2 1945.
